Dear Dr Kurteva,

Many thanks for your help with the above manuscript. This is just a quick note to let you know that after considering the advice received the manuscript has not been found suitable for publication in Chemistry Central Journal and a transfer to another journal in the Chemistry Central group has been suggested to the authors. If the authors agree to this transfer, we will contact you again with further information.

May I take this opportunity to thank you again for all your help.

With best wishes,

Mr Adrian San Pedro
